SPEAKERS

Dr Adrian Mizzi
(Co-Founder & CTO Weavr.io)

Adrian is a highly experienced technologist, starting his career as a software developer with an IT products firm and a mobile operator, and subsequently leading various technology functions as CIO / CTO of payments companies Entropay and Ixaris. He has a proven record in building and leading technology teams covering all the key IT functions for payments businesses including development of financial services grade software, high availability, IT operations, security, and IT procurement. Adrian has recently completed his PhD in Computer Science, focusing on software interoperability across disparate platforms, with applications both in the IoT and blockchain domains.

Anthony Demanuele
(Director, Tech Lead, Flying Squirrel)

Dean Micallef
(Director, Firstbridge)

Following 9 years with Deloitte, Dean joined a long-standing diverse group of companies dating back to 1921 as group CFO, responsible for all corporate, financial and strategic matters related to the group and its functions.

From 2016 Dean assumed the role of Managing Director within Firstbridge Services Limited, a professional advisory firm. Dean is also the Founder of Pitchora and Basement2Boardroom. Pitchora is a start-up competition, designed to provide a platform and an opportunity to creative, innovative and disruptive start-ups to compete for access to an exclusive start-up incubator, seed-funding, access to premium business players and networks, and other forms of monetary and non-monetary professional support, and Basement2Boardroom is a start-up support programme designed to catapult start-ups through the initial phases of their corporate and business journey.
